

BRITTANY

Britt, I miss your soft and gentile touch,
I hope you know that I love you so much,
I sit and look at your picture everyday,
Wondering if I should write you but I can't find
The words to say.

I'm sorry I can't be with you
In this point and time,
But one thing for sure,
You're always in my heart
And always on my mind.

One day soon you and I will be together again,
That way we can hold each other,
That way our hearts can mend.
I'm not sure if that day is far or near,
But until then I'll just hold back my tears.

Just keep faith in God that He will bring us back together,
That way it can be daddy
And his baby girl forever and ever

My Daddy

Sometimes it hurts to know
You can't always be near,
But deep in my heart
You're always here.

As I get older and on my own,
I'll face the world, but through it all,
I'm still "Daddy's baby girl."

I'll never forget the times we once shared,
You always were there when no one else cared.
I'm getting much older as time passes by,
But my love for my daddy will never die,

God has been good to me
And showed me what's right,
He's right by my side
When I pray for you at night.

Even though you won't be able
To see all the things I do,
Daddy don't forget.....
I'll never quit loving you!
