

My Little Church

It's not much of a church,

Just an eight by ten.

No pastor, no pews,

No congregation of me

It's not very pretty,

No cathedral of Rome.

Just my own little church

That's also my home.

I start my own sermons

And lead my own prayer.

I say my confession

So Jesus can hear.

So I pray in my church

That's really my cell

It's a church full of love

In a prison of hell
