

June 16 2005 when I was in the Bexar county jail in San Antonio Texas, I had a spiritual awakening. I was asleep, and I heard someone say "Write your name down". I was very startled; I heard the voice say again "write your name..... not your biological name but your street name".

My street name is Raw Dog so I wrote my street name and the voice said "Write it backwards". I obeyed and wrote it backwards and it spelled "War God". I heard the voice say "Do it again." I wrote "God's War".

This truly did spook me because I didn't know how to pray and ask for forgiveness or repent. I fell on my knees and I started praying. While I was praying with my eyes closed I could see every crime I ever committed (everyone one of them). I must have prayed for 20 to 30 minutes.

When I was finished, I had a puddle of tears and snot on the floor. I had never experienced the glory of the Lord before, but I had just witnessed brokenness (Isaiah 61:1, Ps 34:18 and Ps 51:17) and the inheritance of Jesus in Luke 4:18 where Jesus spoke in the synagogue. That night I went to church and asked God to come into my life.

Since that day on June 16, 2005 I have not been the same. I am in love with the Christ who is showing me how to live daily. I am very thankful to know the truth. Jesus Christ is real, he is alive and I am proof that he can change and rearrange a man from the inside out.

One year later in 2006, I met Ms Delma from Chief Ministries through a letter. Today I have been building a ministry for the Kingdom of God. I have been faithful over the small things; therefore I know the big things are beginning to come to pass.
