

CHIEF MINISTRIES

September, 2008

Lately, I've been talking to different men who are called to be in the work of the Lord, and I find what carries us through is true love. David, even being a bloody man of war, had that love. It was Divine love from on High. However, I am sure in the midst of loving his people he was attacked on a daily basis. Read Psalms 12 and 13 for example. The smooth talking man relies on his lips and flattery to deceive and overcome others.

*Everyone lies to his neighbors; they say one thing and mean another.
The Lord will stop those flattering lips and cut off those bragging tongues.
They say, "Our tongues will help us win.
We can say what we wish; no one is our master." Ps 12:2-4*

Know any men like this? I find this usually comes from those professing to know God. Perhaps they know of Him, but where is the love that Jesus exemplified? Then there are also those who flat out bring false accusations, tell lies and come against those who are doing the will of the Father, or they will keep bringing up the past.

Well, let me encourage you, men of God. Expect this! Don't let it get you down. In fact, be encouraged by it. Know you are affecting the Kingdom of Darkness with light. Those men, unless repentant, and the devil himself, (known as the accuser of the brethren) will be hurled down forever overcome by the blood of the Lamb.

Just recently I've been personally attacked by literally the masses, both Godly and ungodly. The measure of the man of God is how he weathers the storm. You have nothing to fear if there's nothing to hide nor when you are living with the Truth inside of you.

One man, who adamantly opposed me during my trial, became a strong voice for the opposition. He rejoiced when I was sentenced to prison. This happened a few years ago. Yet in the past few weeks, a couple of thousand miles away in another state, where he was attending special meetings, God was given all the glory through testimonies of men's lives being changed and Chief Ministries was honored for being a catalyst for revival and change in the prison system. Well guess who was the camp director? God was. You see no matter what you go through, know that God will use you and be your vindicator if you keep your faith and trust in God.

I was told that this man was speechless upon hearing of the work of the Lord in the prisons. Don't think of yourself unusable because of what men say whether, true or untrue. Be a willing humble vessel like David. He could have destroyed the Sauls that came against him, but he chose to bide his time and let God handle everything.

What's the secret? It's found in Psalms 12:5-6

But the Lord says, "I will now rise up, because the poor are being hurt. Because of the moans of the helpless, I will give them the help they want." The Lord's words are pure, like silver purified by fire, like silver purified seven times over. Ps 12:5-6

Trust in God, not your own hand. Rejoice in your salvation and the mercy He's given you and most of all praise God continuously for He will bless you beyond measure. I'm enclosing a word I was given from the Lord on August 27th in the middle of a Discipleship class. I feel it's important for those that will receive it.

"Behold, I am doing a new thing. Watch as it springs up around you. Do you not perceive it? Ask me to remove the blinders hindering your spiritual eyes and you will see the work of the Lord. For I will suddenly pour out my Spirit on all flesh. Be filled with this Spirit. Seek me. Even now I am calling back those who have known me. I am calling the prodigal and the wayward son through the mouths of the chosen. Open your mouth and I will fill it. The heaviness of spirit shall be lifted as you praise me. Live a life of praise. Let your light shine before men. Let it praise me and they shall come....For I am calling them back from the wilderness, back from the desert. This shall spring up from a well watered garden so stay in my Word to offer them life. Stay close to Me and as the enemy seeks whom he may devour, I will shut the lion's mouth. I will be the lifter of your head. I will be your shelter in the time of storm. Do not react to the natural for you will see that first, but give into the Spirit and let Him lead you in all your ways. Now is the time. Be Ready! Be Ready! For quickly I am going to change nations, even this nation, even prisons. Leaders shall be moved, and those that humbly move in my presence shall be exalted and placed in the forefront of the work of the Most High. Find me. Love Me."

Well, my friends don't quit! Storm the gates of hell and be the example God has called you to be. You will be victorious! Put on the armor of God and let's continue to battle together. Kill the little foxes spoiling the vines in your life and be the fruitful garden God has ordered. Be loved, be faithful, be blessed, my fellow warriors
